

SCHOOL OF
PUBLIC HEALTH

Share This Opportunity With Your Network

This study explores how CBOs and CCOs across Oregon collaborate to improve health and well-being. Findings will identify:

1. How members experience service delivery through CBO-CCO partnerships
2. Elements of "well-developed" partnerships
3. What community factors and local conditions influence partnerships

Mina Colon, MPH
PhD Candidate
OHSU-PSU School of Public Health

Building Better Partnerships: A research study

Real change happens when communities, organizations, and systems learn and act together. Each of these pathways is an invitation to add your voice, your experience, and your perspective to shaping a stronger, more connected Oregon. Visit betterpartnerships.org for more study details.

Participate Your Way

CBO Leaders: Share your local insight

- We're inviting Community-Based Organizations (CBOs) across Oregon to share what makes collaboration successful.
- If your organization provides health-related services such as food, housing, education, safety, transportation, or employment, we want to hear from you!
- The questionnaire is short, anonymous, and easy to complete. It uses simple multiple-choice questions—no long answers—and covers five key areas: relationships, service delivery, funding, data, and equity.

¡Versión en español disponible pronto!

CHWs: Tell us what's working in your Community

- We're inviting Community Health Workers (CHWs) across Oregon to share their experiences supporting Medicaid members. If eligible, you'll take part in a one-time, 90-minute virtual interview on Zoom to:
 - Share your experiences helping people access services such as food, housing, safety, transportation, or employment
 - Discuss what makes local partnerships effective and how they can be improved
 - Offer ideas for how collaboration, funding, and data sharing can better support your community
- Spots are limited, so sign up early to reserve your interview. Participants will receive a $40 electronic gift card as a thank-you for their time. Participation is voluntary and confidential.

Community and Health Partners & Providers: Spread the word

- We're inviting partners and collaborators across Oregon to share this opportunity with the CBOs and CHWs you work with. Sharing this opportunity supports the work you already do to strengthen care coordination, data integration, and resource alignment.
- By passing it along, you'll help capture insights that can help reduce unnecessary utilization, close service gaps, and improve population health outcomes through more sustainable care models.
- We've made sharing easy with a flyer, direct link, and QR code. I'm also happy to meet one-on-one to share details or create tailored materials for your network.

We can't wait to hear and learn from you! Thank you for your partnership!

I'd love to hear from you! Whether you have questions about the study, ideas you'd like to share, or just want to chat, please don't hesitate to reach out.

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

*in fulfillment of PhD requirements